

Station I: Slaves

Mine Conditions

You are now at the bottom of the silver mine. The temperature here is well above 90 degrees Fahrenheit. Sounds from the miners laboring around you fill the air. You hear the repeated tapping of their tools against the hard stone walls. You also hear many of the miners groaning in pain because they have been working for nearly 10 hours without a break. One miner cautions you to keep an eye on the ceiling because cave-ins are a frequent hazard.